New England IPA, 6% Beavertown's Space Hulk is a special edition Double IPA that is brewed with an adventurous and experimental spirit. This beer pours a hazy golden colour with a frothy white head that lingers for a few moments. The aroma is dominated by fruity and resinous hops, with notes of grapefruit, pine, and tropical fruit. Upon taking the first sip, you'll notice that the beer has a smooth and creamy mouthfeel, thanks to the addition of oats in the brewing process. The flavour is intense and complex, with a juicy and fruity character that is balanced by a subtle bitterness. The beer has a fruity flavour profile with notes of grapefruit, orange, and passionfruit, along with a slight hint of piney bitterness. The alcohol content of Space Hulk is on the higher end, with an ABV of 6%, but it is well hidden behind the beer's intense and complex flavour profile. This beer is perfect for those who enjoy a strong and flavorful Double IPA that is both juicy and hoppy. Overall, Beavertown's Space Hulk is a well-crafted and adventurous beer that showcases the brewery's expertise in brewing hoppy and flavorful Double IPAs. Its smooth and creamy mouthfeel, fruity and resinous aroma and balanced bitterness make it a great choice for fans of experimental and delicious beers. In the bustling heart of London's craft beer revolution, the Beavertown Brewery has emerged as a beacon of IPA quality beer ingredients and bitterness hop flavour. Since its inception in 2011, the brewery has carved out a niche for itself with its distinctive, vibrantly designed cans and diverse range of IPA and lager recipes. A tale of passion, creativity, and hops, Beavertown's journey from a humble kitchen setup to a major beer player is nothing short of impressive. Best Beavertown Beers We found these beauties in our local Waitrose From the citrusy bitterness of Space Hulk to the tropical fruitiness of Gamma Ray, here is my take on the best Beavertown beers. Credit: Beavertown Brewery: Beavertown / Heineken ABV: 4.3% (8.6 Proof) Country: UK Colour: Golden The name Neck Oil was inspired by founder Logan's cherished memory of his grandad, who always said he was heading to the pub to 'oil his neck' with a pint. Crisp citrus with a hint of floral hops. Neck Oil is a zesty blend of light malts and vibrant hop flavours, delivering a crisp, clean taste with a subtle carbonation, a medium head, and a smooth finish. I'd say Neck Oil is best for light pub fare, grilled chicken, or Italian food. You can check the latest pricing, product information, and order online. Credit: Beavertown Brewery: Beavertown / Heineken ABV: 6.5% (13 Proof) Country: UK Colour: Golden Heavy Gravity is an IPA powerhouse of hops. Its rich, hazy body is a canvas for the intense tropical fruity flavours that await within. Also, check out my article on the Top 10 Best Trappist Beers Reviewed. Tropical fruits with a bold, hoppy backdrop. This IPA is a lush tapestry of tropical fruits (mainly mango and pineapple) and a touch of malt sweetness. The mouthfeel is velvety, and the finish is bittersweet hops. Complements spicy dishes, strong cheeses, and rich desserts. You can check the latest pricing, product information, and order online. Credit: Beavertown Brewery: Beavertown / Heineken ABV: 5.4% (10.8 Proof) Country: UK Colour: Golden Gamma Ray is an ode to the American Pale Ale, a radiant showcase of hops and harmony. It's almost like a craft beer that brings a smile and a nod of appreciation. Also, check out these popular American beers. A burst of mango and peach with a piney edge. It's a kaleidoscope of American hops, from tropical fruit to resinous pine. The subtle malt base allows the hops to shine while the mild carbonation and medium head add lift. Enjoy Gamma Ray with burgers, BBQ ribs, or a hearty plate of fish and chips. You can check the latest pricing, product information, and order online. Credit: Beavertown Brewery: Beavertown / Heineken ABV: 6.7% (13.4 Proof) Country: UK Colour: Golden Lupuloid is Beavertown's no-nonsense IPA that speaks to the soul of hop lovers. This brew introduces oats and wheat for an unusual twist on the conventional. Aromas of citrus and pine notes with tropical fruits. Bittersweet hops offer a complex array of citrus, floral, and tropical notes balanced against a smooth malt backdrop. Creates a thin head and gives a bitter, fruity finish. Much like Mexican beers, I recommend you pair Lupuloid with Mexican cuisine or a tangy cheese platter. You can check the latest pricing, product information, and order online. Credit: Beavertown Brewery: Beavertown / Heineken ABV: 4.4% (8.8 Proof) Country: UK Colour: Golden Bones is an award-winning lager that refuses to fade into the background, offering a crisp, refreshing taste that's layered with subtle complexities, much like a Canadian lager. Light floral and fresh, bready aromas. Bones is clean and crisp, with a delicate balance of smooth malt sweetness and hop bitterness. I found the carbonation to be spot-on, providing a refreshing effervescence. Try this beauty with sushi, light pasta dishes, or fresh salads. You can check the latest pricing, product information, and order online. Credit: Beavertown Brewery: Beavertown / Heineken ABV: 6% (12 Proof) Country: UK Colour: Golden Space Hulk takes you on a cosmic journey of adventure into the New England IPA style, offering a hazy, citrusy beer-sipping experience. Juicy tropical fruits, citrus with a hint of bitterness. It opens with tropical fruit flavours, with mango, pineapple, and a hint of zesty orange mid-palate. The finish is smooth yet lingers slightly bitter in the back of your throat. Space Hulk is excellent with flavoursome Thai or Vietnamese food or Indian dishes. You can check the latest pricing, product information, and order online. Credit: Beavertown Brewery: Beavertown / Heineken ABV: 0.3% (0.6 Proof) Country: UK Colour: Golden Lazer Crush is Beavertown's bold journey into the alcohol-free arena, proving that flavour need not be sacrificed at the altar of sobriety. Citrus zest and a touch of pine. Lazer Crush impresses with its bittersweet hop-forward profile, with grapefruit and orange flavours. The absence of alcohol is hardly noticed, thanks to its well-structured body. A versatile match for light salads, grilled vegetables, or a cheese board. You can check the latest pricing, product information, and order online. My top pick is Gamma Ray IPA Beer because it's a fanfare of hops and malt with a fresh pine edge. An excellent introduction to the IPA world of Beavertown. Considering that Heineken acquired the brewery in 2022, not much has changed, as Beavertown is still delivering quality IPAs that are... out of this world. Whether you're a fan of bittersweet hops or more of a lager lover, the best Beavertown beers are packed with bitter hops, smooth malt and a symphony of tropical fruits. Of course, their can art, with its bold, intricate illustrations, really stands out from the crowd, and I must confess is what drew me to the brand in the first place. Thirsty for more? Beavertown Brewery / London Wasser, Gerstenmalz, Weizenmalz, Hafer, Hopfen, Hefe sehr fruchtig, nach Pfirsich, Birne, Pinie, leicht harzig, etwas dünn, Tutti Frutti würzig, langer Abgang Aus London stammt das "Beavertown Space Hulk", dass hinter dem ersten Türchen meines Hitchcoq-Adventskalenders versteckt war. 6vol.% Alkohol hat dieses NEIPA, das fruchtig schmecken soll. Na, dann wollen wir das Geschmacksraumschiff betreten und loslegen. Optisch ist es klasse: Goldgelb, hefetrüb, sehr viel fester Schaum, der ewig lange hält. Dazu gibt es einen sehr fruchtigen Geruch. Der Antrunk bestätigt dies natürlich: Pfirsiche kommen durch, dazu noch Birnen. Überhaupt hat das Bier einen tropischen Geschmack. Die Süße ist gut, aber nicht übertrieben. Beim nächsten Schluck kann ich etwas Kokos ausmachen, dann wird das Bier leicht harzig und Pinie ist zu schmecken. Das Bier kann was, es wirkt aber zwischenzeitlich etwas dünn. Und das bei sechs Prozent Alkohol. Ein neuer Schluck und wieder habe ich den Tutti-Frutti-Geschmack auf der Zunge. Ja, das "Beavertown Space Hulk" ist sehr lecker! So kann die Vorweihnachtszeit weitergehen.
