But I've been running into this problem where the clothes won't load and only leaves me with a few of the default clothes and the rest are all gone. I already deleted and reinstalled it twice and it keeps happening. I don't know what to do.1 person found this review helpfulDid you find this helpful? Flag inappropriateShow review historyI'm in love with this game and the art and everything. Super cute. Gore, alien, Etc. I would love if you guys can add more options for the eyes, eyebrows, mouth and clothing. I notice that there is no nose and it's frustrating cause there's only one and it look like a puppy nose. I do enjoy this game alot and it's addictive for me. I've been sending it to a lot of people and they like it too. I've been using them as wallpaper and they look rad. It's fun to play with the colors. PS. It would be cool if you guys add more alien stuff or Egyptian things too. ♥♥♥ Thanks for the game !!!!!19 people found this review helpfulDid you find this helpful?I've had this app for many years across several phones. There's new stuff often enough but it has always been completely satisfying from the beginning! Love watching its evolution. Side Note: could you maybe consider making the hair able to move up and down like the eyes and mouths? There's a lot of hairstyles I like but don't use because they cover the face too much but if I could just move the hair up a bit it'd be perfect. Thank You for all your work and your art!87 people found this review helpfulDid you find this helpful?Updates to support newer Android versions.flagFlag as inappropriate Create your own unique monster girl with Monster Girl Maker – a playful and creative character creator game where you design stunning and spooky avatars using hundreds of parts, colors, and accessories! In the shadowed underbelly of the city, they called her Mouse—a name earned not for timidity but for the way she slipped through cracks others didn't see. Her fingers danced across keypads and lockpicks with the precision of a surgeon, her small frame a ghost in the labyrinth of rusted vents and flickering neon. She lived by three rules: never trust a clean suit, always know the exit before the entrance, and never carry more than you're willing to lose. The streets had chewed her up once, left her hollowed out and snarling, but she'd clawed back a kingdom of secrets from the gutter. Now, when the corporate drones whispered about the girl who could steal the chrome from a cyborg's bones, they didn't laugh. They checked their locks twice. Mouse didn't do promises or apologies—just results, delivered in the silent language of cracked servers and vanished payloads. The city thought it had made her. It was wrong. She'd built herself from its rubble, sharp and hungry and alive. Ever wanted to create your own cute monster character but didn't know where to start?
