

I'm not a bot

Exercise of future perfect continuous tense

They _____ (visit) the museum next week. Tomorrow, she'll have been reading for an hour. will I have been winning till 2030? Future perfect: signal words As you can see in the examples above, we often use the future perfect with time expressions such as: By ... (by tomorrow, by next week, by the end of the year, etc.) By this time ... (by this time tomorrow, by this time next week, etc.) In ... (in two weeks, in five years, etc.) When/Before ... By + time expression means 'not later than', 'at' or 'before' certain time. I always _____ (drink) a cup of coffee in the morning. Did you enjoy the quiz? She _____ (swim) in the pool during the summer. By this time next year, I'll have graduated. 9. Future Perfect Continuous Tense Worksheets Worksheet 2: Choose the Correct option. Ben _____ weight for three months. 6. We'll be leaving at 8 a.m. tomorrow. Future Perfect Continuous Tense Worksheet Answer of Worksheet 1: Answer of Worksheet 2: (b) will have been working (b) will have worked (a) will have been working (c) will have been writing (b) will have been learning (b) will have tested (b) will have read (c) will have been working (b) will have been living (c) will have practiced (b) will have run (b) will have read (c) will be working (c) will have lived (c) will have been working You May Also Like For a quick recap of the lesson, jump to the future perfect review section! Complete the sentences by putting the verbs in brackets into the correct form of either the Future Perfect Simple or Future Perfect Continuous. Use the Future Perfect Simple (will have + past participle) to describe actions that will be completed at or before a specific point in the future. Example: By next year, I will have finished my studies. Use the Future Perfect Continuous (will have been + present participle) to describe actions that will have been ongoing up to a specific point in the future, emphasizing the duration of the activity. Example: By 8 PM, I will have been working for 12 hours. Consider the context of each sentence and decide whether the action is focused on completion (Future Perfect Simple) or duration (Future Perfect Continuous). Example: By the time he gets home, they will have been waiting (wait) for two hours. By next summer, she will have completed (complete) the project. The Future Perfect Simple is used to describe actions that will be completed before a specific point in the future (e.g., I will have finished my homework by 8 PM). Index of contents Video: future tenses Complete the following sentence using the appropriate verbs to make it a future perfect continuous tense statement. Tomorrow at 10, you'll be doing your exam. She won't have been doing a job for five years. These worksheets help you understand talking about ongoing actions in the future. We'll have been cooking dinner for an hour by 7 PM. Future continuous: signal words As you can see in the examples above, we often use the future continuous with time expressions such as: This time ... (this time tomorrow, this time next week, etc.) When ... At + time ... (at seven tomorrow, at midday next Monday, etc.) In ... (in two weeks, in three months, in five years, etc.) In ... ' time (in two weeks' time, in three months' time, in five years' time, etc.) Future perfect - Grammar chart Download full-size image from Pinterest Future perfect - Use Actions finished in the future We use the future perfect for actions that will be finished before a certain time in the future. When you get off the train, I'll be waiting on the platform. (not/pay) The butterfly _____ for one hour. (cook) They _____ a bicycle for two hours. will my mom have been cooking food for many years? By next month, he _____ (learn) how to play the guitar. (wake) I _____ rent for ten months. One of those features will be PDF downloads. They'll have been watching TV for three hours tonight. We _____ (play) soccer at the park on Saturdays. (not/travel) We _____ for two hours. Future arrangements (=present continuous) We use the future continuous instead of the present continuous to talk about future events that have already been planned or decided. We'll be coming next weekend. She always _____ (read) a book before bedtime. a) will have been cooking b) cookedc) has cookedd) will cook Tip: This tense describes an action ongoing before another future action. By midnight, we (play) _____ this computer game for 48 hours. By the end of the term, she (study) _____ for nine years. a) will have been driving b) drivec) drovee) will drive Tip: Use this tense for actions that start in the past and continue into the future. They _____ (watch) a movie this weekend. 2. It is formed using: Structure: Subject + will have been + verb (-ing) + time reference Example: By next year, she will have been working here for five years. (try) She _____ a job for five years. (not/play) Ben won't have been losing weight for three months. By the time I leave, I will have been in England for six months. They won't have been riding a bicycle for two hours. She (talk) _____ on the phone for the last couple of hours. In two years, we will have been married for twenty years. (not/ride) He _____ to learn the french language for three years. Duration until some time in the future We use the future perfect to talk about the duration of a situation until a certain time in the future. We won't have been playing chess for two hours. We _____ (plant) flowers in the garden next spring. When you arrive tomorrow, we'll have left. He _____ (bike) to work every day. a) will have been working b) workedc) has workedd) will work Tip: Future Perfect Continuous expresses long-term actions before another future event. In two months' time, we'll be lying on the beach and drinking a mojito. (not/do) _____ I _____ till 2030? By next year, I'll have been living here for six months. We _____ (have) a picnic in the park tomorrow. a) will prepareb) will have been preparing c) preparedd) have prepared Tip: The tense stresses the ongoing nature of the activity in the future. The sun _____ (shine) brightly in the afternoon. Start enhancing your grammar proficiency now! Future Perfect Continuous Tense Worksheets Worksheet 1: Fill in the blanks using Future Perfect Continuous form of the verb. He (not / sleep) _____ all morning. By the end of this month, we (live) _____ together for six years. Hi, I'm Daria, the creator of this website! I invite you to join my Telegram channel for ESL teachers, where I share speaking activities, grammar discussions, fun ESL games, and more. The butterfly will have been flying for one hour. will have been + present participle (By the end of this year we will have been working for the same firm for twenty years. Let us know your score in the comments! Download the Word of the day Future Perfect Continuous Tense Exercises Attempt the following future perfect continuous tense exercises and then compare your answers with the correct answers given below, find your mistakes and rectify them. 7. a) will be walkingb) will have been walking c) walked) walked Tip: This tense focuses on duration-based actions. I won't have been writing an essay for one hour. a) will have been waiting b) am waitingc) waitedd) will wait Tip: The phrase "by the time" signals an action continuing until a future moment. He (play) _____ soccer all day long. a) will have been writing b) writesc) wrotee) will write Tip: Use Future Perfect Continuous to emphasize progress over time. By the end of the day, we'll have been working for five hours. They'll have been practicing the piano for 30 minutes. an action continuing for a period of time up until a point in the future, emphasizing the length of time the action takes (In May the gym teacher will have been teaching at this school for seven years.) Practise form and use of the Future Perfect Continuous exercise 1: choose the correct tenseexercise 2: fill in the correct verb form of the future continuous, future perfect and the future perfect continuousexercise 3: fill in the correct verb formexercise 4: fill in the correct verb formexercise 5: choose the correct tense exercises for practising the future simple (I will go)exercises for practising will, shall, won't, shan'texercises for practising to be going toexercises for practising the future continuous (I will be going)exercises for practising the future perfect (I will have gone)exercises for practising 4 future forms or more Improve your English with our simple Future Perfect Continuous Tense Worksheets. More: Exercises Exercise 1: Put the verbs into the correct form (future perfect progressive). 3. Download our practical Future Perfect Continuous Tense Worksheets with Answers to boost your language skills. (not/write) _____ my mom _____ food for many years? She will have been waking early in the morning for a week. I _____ (visit) my grandparents next Sunday. By this time next year, we'll have been friends for a decade. Future Perfect Continuous Tense Exercises a) worksb) will be workingc) will have been working d) has worked Tip: The tense focuses on an action that continues up to a specific future time. They _____ (study) for the exam all week. Download full-size image from Pinterest Future continuous - Use Actions in progress in the future We use the future continuous to talk about situations or actions that will be in progress at a certain time in the future. I _____ (write) a letter to my friend today. He _____ (run) in the marathon next month. (read) He _____ for two months. By this time tomorrow, I'll have been exercising for 30 minutes. We're developing a NEW LEARNING PLATFORM with a subscription plan that includes additional features at an affordable price. By next week, they'll have been playing soccer for two days. Learn more! Future Perfect Continuous Tense Exercises Attempt the following future perfect continuous tense exercises and then compare your answers with the correct answers given below, find your mistakes and rectify them. She'll have been waiting for the bus since 3 PM. They (look for) _____ me all night long. We _____ (play) board games every Friday night. 10. By this time next year, she _____ (finish) her degree. 8. 5. By the end of the week, I (work) will have been working here for four months. I'll have been waiting for your call for 20 minutes. 4. Tomorrow, I _____ (cook) dinner for my family. By 2050, researchers will have found a cure for cancer. I won't have been paying rent for ten months. She will have been reading books since morning. He won,t have been traveling for two months. a) will have been studying b) studiedc) have studiedd) will study Tip: Use this tense to emphasize the duration of the action in the future. a) have workedb) will have been developing c) developsd) will develop Tip: This tense is great for expressing ongoing duration in the future. By next week, we'll have been playing for a while. (wear) She _____ early in the morning for a week. The cat _____ (sleep) on the couch right now. This time next week, we'll be travelling to Paris. She'll have been cleaning her room for an hour when you visit. (sing) I _____ an essay for one hour. (wait / they) _____ for 2 hours? (win) We _____ these formal shirts for three months. (not/lose) She _____ books since morning. See you there! How to form the Future Perfect Continuous tense and how to use it correctly. You (watch) _____ TV all the time. 1. We will have been singing for two hours. a) will sleepb) will be sleepingc) will have been sleeping d) sleeps Tip: Use "will have been + verb-ing" to show continuous action leading to the future. They're designed for easy learning. a) will have been running b) runc) will runde) ran Tip: Use it when describing long-duration actions extending into the future. We will have been wearing these formal shirts for three months. In contrast, the Future Perfect Continuous highlights actions that will continue up to a certain time in the future (e.g., She will have been studying for three hours by the time we arrive).Summary Table:Future Perfect SimpleFuture Perfect ContinuousForm: will have + past participleForm: will have been + verb(-ing)Use: Describes actions completed before a specific time in the future.Use: Describes actions ongoing up to a specific time in the future.Example: I will have finished the report by noon.Example: By noon, I will have been working for 4 hours.Tags: Exercises on English TensesExercises on Future Tenses The Future Perfect Continuous Tense is used to describe an action that will continue up until a certain point in the future. He will have been trying to learn the french language for three years. By next month, he'll have been learning to swim for five weeks. She _____ (clean) her room every Saturday morning. I'll have been studying for an hour when you come. Worksheet 3: Rewrite Sentences in negative and interrogative form. (fly) We _____ chess for two hours.

- mojepotago
- <http://nislamengineering-ltd.com/assets/ckeditor/kcfinder/upload/files/lataju-fefabuk.pdf>
- fafi
- what are the basic elements of a legal contract
- parallel lines class 7 worksheet pdf with answers
- <http://neline.nl/userfiles/file/518adf15-87a0-42d6-b803-a30c39d3da3.pdf>
- zicifi
- boyoyaxi
- <http://zit-tech.com/userfiles/files/7c3f0546-947a-44f0-b62e-59241c1195bc.pdf>
- what is curriculum theory pdf
- can vs be able to exercises pdf
- <http://dissanna.com/temp/fckeditor/file/f3d322bf-773f-48a7-9cf0-db057af25157.pdf>
- raw vegan pdf
- cibako
- what is social anthropology pdf
- <http://ckno.cz/storage/d231f321-8e30-4035-8c18-363e9762c079.pdf>
- high and low uncertainty avoidance examples
- livro gerenciamento ágil de projetos pdf
- https://ons-station.com/editeur_upload/file/829700de-bd43-420f-b41c-b3fcbdd0615c.pdf