No information contained on DMR should be invoked to make investment decisions. Basically, this is the best I can find and don't guarantee anything to be 100%. Facebook Messenger is in circulation as a standalone app for some time, but taking advantage of Facebook Messenger Marketing is still a relevant newcomer in Social Media Marketing. After all, for many years after Facebook was launched for the first time your friends also had to go to a $\text{€} \dot{\text{a}} \text{--}$ $\text{€} \dot{\text{a}} \text{--}$ "inbox $\text{€} \dot{\text{a}} \text{--}$ to see the messages you sent them. Messages did not go to your smartphone or do something different from generating an email from facebook that you have a message. In other words, messaging on Facebook has originally been as e-mail. Now, though, this has changed. You can use Facebook Messenger to communicate with people who are not even for the rest of Facebook! It is also a separate app on your phone or tablet. With these innovations, Marketers have a tool that we can use effectively to achieve masses and Facebook Messenger Bot allow us to automate and resize in a unique way, assuming that we are using one of the Facebook message management tools that will describe below . Before arriving at the tool list, for those who don't have familiar with the topic, go through some of the basic notions to help you make better use of these Messenger Facebook Message Tools. What is Facebook Messenger marketing? Facebook Messenger Marketing is both an alternative method of distribution of content and a great way to do customer service. That's because, as with Twitter, Messenger allows you to interact with consumers in real time. Does a customer have a problem? If you set it correctly, they can messages to your profile on Facebook and get a back answer. Which could be through a human clerk or a chatbot. In both cases, this is a very effective way to reach customers. Why is this marketing form yet relevant today? Although Facebook Messenger has matured as a form of communication, using it at the market remains relevant. In fact, you can claim that the vehicle as a whole is underutilized and from a marketing perspective, we are still in the initial phase of adoption. From a consumer perspective, however, Facebook Messenger is easy to use and can help increase customer satisfaction through immediate gratification. The content distributed via Messenger also has a much higher open rate than the e-mail and helps Marketers learn more about individual users. This is not a means that Marketers can allow us to ignore! What is the difference between Facebook Messenger Marketing Bots and Chatbots? When most of us think of the chatbots, our conception is one of those pop-ups on various websites that send us an automatic message. The truth is, these are everywhere, and most of us will ignore those robots unless we want to communicate with a business. However, for those who are really interested in certain products and services, chatbots are a great way to get basic answers to joint questions without having to wait for online to get a $\text{€} \dot{\text{a}} \text{--}$ $\text{€} \dot{\text{a}} \text{--}$ "Human ". Sometimes, waiting can be a huge pain, so these robots offer a valuable service by reducing waiting time. Marketing bots are a bit different. Of course, they can do many of the same things about traditional chatbots. Ad example, they were On Facebook with great effect for customer service activities. But Facebook Messenger Marketing Bots do more information: you can use them to send marketing information to interested customers, collect useful information about your advantage, and direct them to the right human beings. For example, a marketing bot can send a useful useful content to your advantage. Or, they can determine that an angry customer needs to talk to a live person on a refund. Marketer Marketer Found the use of these devices very useful in many situations. Best of all: they are cheap to use. The list: 11 Facebook Marketing Marketing Tools to try today.
