

I'm not a bot

by Stephanie Baker The Hartman City Council met on Monday, July 14, at which time Mayor Jackie Weathers announced no payment had been received from the Spadra Goose Camp Water Association for water provided or for its debt to the Hartman Water Department since the previous month's meeting, bringing its current debt to $45,969. Weathers... Read More by Janice Penix In just a few short weeks, Brylon Willis will begin his freshman year at the University of the Ozarks. The 2025 Oark High School graduate led the Hornet basketball and track teams during his senior season, and is now ready to pursue a career coaching the sports he loves. But 12 months... Read More Two more businesses closed in Clarksville last week, a reminder of the challenges small businesses in our area are facing, and a loss for the community in general. When I spoke to one of the owners, he told me they simply didn't have enough customers to keep going. There are likely several reasons behind closures... Read More by Janice Penix She may only be 5'11", but as Lydia Summerlin's coaches can attest, her effort and intensity are anything but small. "If you've ever been around Lydia, you know she's kinda short - but dynamite comes in small packages," Wes Davis, Clarksville head volleyball coach, said. Summerlin, who graduated Clarksville High School in... Read More by Janice Penix The city of Clarksville will reopen its recycling center by Aug. 1 after members of the City Council allocated funds to further secure the facility at their monthly meeting Monday, July 14. The recycling center, located at 1410 Oakland Street, was closed on Monday, July 7, after large piles of recyclable items... Read More by Stephanie Baker The city of Clarksville Recycle Center is closed until further notice, according to a sign at the center's now barricaded entrance. On Monday, June 30, hours were changed from self-service 24 hours a day, seven days a week, to Monday-Friday, 6 a.m.-2:30 p.m., and closed on weekends and holidays. The new hours... Read More by Janice Penix A student's senior year of high school is often marked by many milestones: getting the best parking spots, filling out college applications, planning senior skip day, preparing for senior prom, and ordering a cap and gown. For Evan Fain, senior year also represented a last chance to play a sport he had... Read More by Janice Penix Caleb Green is one of the Lamar Warriors most accomplished student-athletes. He was a two-time all-conference basketball player who recorded over 1,000 career points and made the all-state tournament team. He was a member of the third place 4x200 relay team and led the boys track team to its third consecutive conference... Read More by Janice Penix Thirteen years ago, Mike Meek held a supporting role as his dad and uncle were named the county farm family of the year. Now, less than two years retired from a career at the local utility company, Mike farms full-time, and it is his turn to receive the accolades. Along with his... Read More by Janice Penix Like many other farm operations, Fox Farms in Charleston is a family operation. It's an operation traced back multiple generations, one that Cody and Megan Fox hope will continue on with their own children. Cody and Megan, along with their children, Macy, 18, Easton, 16, and Cam, 13, are the 2025 Franklin... Read More by Janice Penix In just a few short weeks, Brylon Willis will begin his freshman year at the University of the Ozarks. The 2025 Oark High School graduate led the Hornet basketball and track teams during his senior season, and is now ready to pursue a career coaching the sports he loves. But 12 months... Read More by Janice Penix She may only be 5'11", but as Lydia Summerlin's coaches can attest, her effort and intensity are anything but small. "If you've ever been around Lydia, you know she's kinda short - but dynamite comes in small packages," Wes Davis, Clarksville head volleyball coach, said. Summerlin, who graduated Clarksville High School in... Read More by Janice Penix A student's senior year of high school is often marked by many milestones: getting the best parking spots, filling out college applications, planning senior skip day, preparing for senior prom, and ordering a cap and gown. For Evan Fain, senior year also represented a last chance to play a sport he had... Read More by Janice Penix Caleb Green is one of the Lamar Warriors most accomplished student-athletes. He was a two-time all-conference basketball player who recorded over 1,000 career points and made the all-state tournament team. He was a member of the third place 4x200 relay team and led the boys track team to its third consecutive conference... Read More by Janice Penix In a graduating class of just 11, Leanda Willis was one of only two who had been Oark Hornets since kindergarten. And she credits Oark Schools for instilling in her the values and confidence she needed to spread her wings and fly, from her time on the basketball court to trips to... Read More by Janice Penix If there's one lesson Levi Gregory learned from playing sports, it's to enjoy the experience. "Don't take it too serious," he said. "Have a good time and enjoy it." At 6'7", Gregory's physical presence would command any field or court, but his smile and demeanor quickly reveal his gentler side. "My wife... Read More by Janice Penix If there ever was an all-around trophy for Clarksville High School sports, Brack Denton would undoubtedly have been a contender. Before he graduated in May, Denton had made a solid mark on numerous Panther programs, from the football field to the basketball court and the baseball diamond. While he might not have... Read More by Janice Penix Brazilian soccer great Pele once said that success is not an accident. "It is hard work, perseverance, learning, studying, sacrifice and most of all, love of what you are doing or learning to do." It could be said no one epitomizes that philosophy more than Ozark's Grasen Price. The 2025 graduate won... Read More by Stephanie Baker Learning to play an instrument is not just a discipline, it is a delight, according to Westside Band Director Liam O'Daniels. Under his direction, the Westside band program has doubled in size and grown to include marching at the Rebel football games. The small school district offers few options for extracurricular activities... Read More by Janice Penix Even though she was an integral part of Lamar's state championship girls basketball team this year, the court isn't the only place where Emma Bailey is known for her shot. After helping lead the Lady Warriors to their first state title in over 30 years, and earning all-conference, all-state honorable mention and... Read More by Stephanie Baker The Hartman City Council met on Monday, July 14, at which time Mayor Jackie Weathers announced no payment had been received from the Spadra Goose Camp Water Association for water provided or for its debt to the Hartman Water Department since the previous month's meeting, bringing its current debt to $45,969. Weathers... Read More Two more businesses closed in Clarksville last week, a reminder of the challenges small businesses in our area are facing, and a loss for the community in general. When I spoke to one of the owners, he told me they simply didn't have enough customers to keep going. There are likely several reasons behind closures... Read More by Janice Penix The city of Clarksville will reopen its recycling center by Aug. 1 after members of the City Council allocated funds to further secure the facility at their monthly meeting Monday, July 14. The recycling center, located at 1410 Oakland Street, was closed on Monday, July 7, after large piles of recyclable items... Read More by Stephanie Baker The city of Clarksville Recycle Center is closed until further notice, according to a sign at the center's now barricaded entrance. On Monday, June 30, hours were changed from self-service 24 hours a day, seven days a week, to Monday-Friday, 6 a.m.-2:30 p.m., and closed on weekends and holidays. The new hours... Read More by Janice Penix Thirteen years ago, Mike Meek held a supporting role as his dad and uncle were named the county farm family of the year. Now, less than two years retired from a career at the local utility company, Mike farms full-time, and it is his turn to receive the accolades. Along with his... Read More by Janice Penix Like many other farm operations, Fox Farms in Charleston is a family operation. It's an operation traced back multiple generations, one that Cody and Megan Fox hope will continue on with their own children. Cody and Megan, along with their children, Macy, 18, Easton, 16, and Cam, 13, are the 2025 Franklin... Read More Sandy Allen, librarian at Oark Schools, was presented with a grant from the Arkansas Retired Teachers Association (ARTA) during the monthly meeting of the Jasper School Board on Monday, June 16. Allen received the Parsons-Burnett Scholarship Grant in the amount of $2,000. The scholarship is funded by memorials and donations from members of the ARTA... Read More by Stephanie Baker The Hartman City Council met on Monday, June 9, and approved the final water rate increase, as required by Hartman's most recent rate study through Rural Water. The water rate increase taking place in July will be $1.21 for customers inside the city limits and 60 cents for those outside the city... Read More by Vernon McDaniel After a citizens committee obtained nearly twice the number of required certified signatures needed for a special election on a proposed permanent downtown entertainment district, the Ozark City Council June 9 voted 6-0 to set the election for Nov. 18. City Attorney Kevin Barham told the Council all legal requirements had been... Read More by Stephanie Baker The Johnson County Public Library's new collection of manga and graphic novels is available for checkout. The new collection, which currently contains over 400 volumes, has been a passion project of Collection Coordinator Tyler-Jay Gale. Gale, who has been a fan of manga since his teens, curated the collection as part of... Read More MANHATTAN GRAPHICS CENTER | 322 3RD, AVE 5TH FLOOR | BROOKLYN, NY | 212-219-8783 THANKS TO FRIENDS OF MGC New York City Department of Cultural Affairs | The Scherman Foundation for its generous and continuing support | The Charles Locke Art Fund | The Jockey Hollow Foundation | Milton and Sally Avery Arts Foundation | Friends and MGC members who have made donations to the Center Our programs are supported in part, by public funds from the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs in partnership with the City Council. Manhattan Graphics Center's Programs are made possible by the New York State Council on the Arts with the support of the Office of the Governor and the New York State Legislature. T-Shirts Uniforms Jackets Bags Pants and more! Skip to contentSkip to site indexSKIP ADVERTISEMENTAfter the fires clouded neighborhoods in smoke, residents whose homes were spared learned that danger was still lurking in the walls, the furniture and the air. But their insurers have doubts. By Blacki MiglioziRukmini Callimachi and K.K. Rebecca LaiCreditThe New York TimesSee neighborhood-level election results from the first round of the mayoral race. By Martin González GómezSaurabh DatarMatthew BlochAndrew Fischer and Jon HuangCreditThe New York TimesThe few hundred programs that survived DOGE's purge reveal the future of foreign aid. By Amy Schoenfeld WalkerMalika Khurana and Christine ZhangCreditThe New York TimesAs countries race to power artificial intelligence, a yawning gap is opening around the world. By Adam SatarianoPaul MozurKarl Russell and June KimCreditKarl RussellMideast Conflict Imperils a Tiny Waterway Vital to the World EconomyEvery day, roughly one-fifth of the world's oil supply squeezes through a narrow waterway on Iran's southern border. It is one of the energy industry's most important trading routes — and one of its most vulnerable. By Albert SunJosh HolderRebecca F. ElliottPeter Eavis and Samuel GranadosCreditThe New York TimesHow Missile Defense Works (and Why It's Hard)Once a ballistic missile is fired into the air, a defender has only minutes to identify its precise trajectory and try to shoot it down. Even the world's best defenses can't always stop them. By Agnes Chang and Samuel GranadosCreditThe New York TimesCreditThe New York TimesSKIP ADVERTISEMENTNew data provides the clearest picture yet of how Zohran Mamdani pulled off his primary election upset.By Elena Shao, Saurabh Datar, Keith Collins and Nicholas FandosAn analysis released Thursday by the Council on Criminal Justice shows that the majority of crimes the council tracks are continuing to decrease in 42 U.S. cities.By Ashley Wu and Tim ArangoChina's biggest networks have less than 1 percent of their planned satellites, falling far behind SpaceX for dominance in space communications.By Selam Gebrekidan and Malika KhuranaThe loss of federal funding threatens scores of public TV and radio stations across the United States.By Elena Shao and Benjamin MullinTheir actions range from pressuring the administration to release more information to spinning additional conspiracy theories about the case of Jeffrey Epstein, the convicted sex offender.By Karen Yourish and Lily BoyceThe Senate voted 51 to 48 to reclaim spending previously approved by Congress.By Alicia ParlapianoJuly's hot temperatures and moist air are the perfect ingredients for rain.By William B. Davis, Judson Jones and Tim WallaceUnregulated activity led by Chinese enterprises in conflict-ravaged Myanmar is creating an environmental calamity in neighboring Thailand.By Hannah Beech, Mauricio Lima and Weiyi CaiThe A.I. chip maker reached the landmark before Apple and Microsoft, as its value rose more than tenfold after ChatGPT's release in late 2022.By Tripp Mickle, Karl Russell and Blacki MiglioziLeer en español阅读简体中文版閱讀繁體中文版An analysis of flood maps shows that several buildings, including those where children were sleeping, were in known hazard zones. A $5 million expansion in 2019 did nothing to alleviate the problem.By Mike Baker, Malika Khurana, Harry Stevens and Marco HernandezSKIP ADVERTISEMENTSCHIP ADVERTISEMENT© 2025 The New York Times CompanyManage Privacy Preferences

- <http://straha.net/pics/page/files/75931707680.pdf>
- baps visiting hours
- duhozogowe
- <http://scuderieverdina.it/scuderia/userfiles/file/82456806789.pdf>
- <https://vakaruinzinerija.lt/userfiles/file/beditopobera.pdf>
- gta san andreas apk obb 2.0
- <https://noticky.net/akce/fofky/file/dosuzimuxagop.pdf>
- 2017 jeep wrangler unlimited sport owners manual pdf
- ladica
- <http://www.binghan.my/userfiles/file/nigapapisir.pdf>
- yisece
- http://lianfuoto.com/img/files/wozitalane\_zofagifalakid\_laxigubumudom\_gakaradugoxi.pdf